"Dr. Mark V. Crockett will remain a symbol of the forces which have shaped Lesley College into her present image."

— Dr. Don A. Orton, President
The Brotherhood of Man under the Fatherhood of God

by Catherine Basie
Member of the Corporation, Lesley College

Last May, the President's Seminar hosted Mrs. Catherine Basie as its guest speaker. The President's Seminar is held once a month during the school year and concentrates on bringing a wide variety of interesting speakers to the campus. At the time of her visit, Mrs. Basie, wife of the famed jazz musician, had been recently appointed a member of the Corporation of Lesley College. Mrs. Basie is very active in social work. She is founder and chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews' Women's Division in Queens, Long Island and is the first woman to receive the annual Brotherhood Award for Human Relations Service. She has received honors and citations from the March of Dimes, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts of America, the Cerebral Palsy Foundation, and the Industrial House of the Blind. Following are excerpts from her talk at the seminar.

Thank you Dr. Orton, honored guests, and you, the warm hearted, gracious ladies of Lesley College. I am happy, indeed, to be with you today as a guest of your President's Seminar.

On the way up to Boston this morning, I was asking myself, "What shall I find to talk about to these young women?" But, now, as I stand here before you, I find myself imbued with the same dedication that I see shining forth from your faces, and I feel that I am with very dear folks. What my eyes see in the faces surrounding me here represents to some degree what my own heart feels—a union of people, brotherhood.

Filled with this inner glow, I find myself suddenly glad to be a woman in these truly history-making days and years; for you know and I know that the hand that rocks the cradle rules the world (even though at times we find it expedient to let our men think otherwise). Being women, we are the givers of life; the sustainers of life. And we find ourselves advocating that this way of life should be a free gift to every person, fully realizing that until every person has this precious gift, none of us can truly know freedom.

Perhaps some of you are wondering why all the wonderful words about women? Simply because today I am going to speak on a subject very dear to my heart; one that I feel sure is very dear to the heart of all women—the Brotherhood of Man Under the Fatherhood of God.

You and other young women like yourselves will be playing major roles in man's efforts to achieve brotherhood in the years to come. You are ladies of a special order. You are seekers of truth and knowledge in today's constantly changing world. And in a twinkling of time, you will become givers of truth and knowledge—in a world which will probably still be fraught with change. As teachers, you will be molders of thought and opinion. Your concepts and attitudes toward your fellow men will strongly influence the success or failure of man's attempts to unite man.

There are people who say, "Brotherhood—what is it but a vague generality; a lofty idea given a nebulous shape by an intangible dream." This is partly true. The conception of Brotherhood is a dream. But it isn't as vague and nebulous as we may think it to be. We should start asking ourselves how do we go about bringing this dream of Brotherhood into reality? How do we make it work for us?

I believe that the key step towards accomplishing this goal is to look within. We must further cultivate within ourselves the qualities of good will, intelligence, clear thinking, honesty, sincerity, tolerance, and human understanding. These are the qualities which will bring Brotherhood from the state of "an idea" to the state of being.

Basically, Brotherhood is simply pinning the sign "Common Sense" on our door and saying, "Get rid of your prejudices in order that you may live peacefully with yourself and your neighbors."

It is also Education saying: "Beyond the development of skills and the acquiring of knowledge, we must learn to live together, for the silent killer, Hatred—which in our lifetime has covered our globe with the blood of millions of innocent victims—still lurks among us."

It is Hatred, an unreasoning and major foe to Brotherhood, and a terrible cancer of the mind and soul, who lit the gas chambers in the holocaust of World War II; who pulled the triggers and dropped the bombs; who robbed countless peoples of their liberty, land, and lives. It is this same killer who continues to stalk its prey today, still unapprehended.

Surely no individual, no community of men, no country or group of countries in the world can afford to tolerate any longer such a vicious enemy in their midst. Outrage and indignation are noble and understandable reactions to this problem, of course. But they are weak and insufficient in themselves. Our most valuable tool against this enemy is a strong, relentless and unceasing war of education. This is clearly your job and the task of all future educators of our future leaders.

I believe that whether tomorrow will be better or worse, as we see it today, and whether we will come closer to making Brotherhood a working reality, depends in large measure on how you, as young Americans, understand and accept the opportunities, challenges and the changing status in the world. Before you is the greatest wealth of opportunity that ever faced American college graduates. You also have the greatest burden of responsibility and obligation that was ever set upon the shoulders of young adults.

Your obligation is to outfit yourselves with the cloak of education and teacher training. Either you develop your skills and utilize your talents to the highest degree possible or you will find yourselves living in a world of lost dreams and unfulfilled opportunities. Use your talents for the benefit of Mankind. Pursue your goals with a fervent dedication. Carry with you that sense of urgency and concern that drives away indolence, that recognizes and rejects all that is unworthy within you. Maintain that spirit which seeks always to render things better— or, at least, better understood.

As you assume your places in the field of education, please, I urge you, teach your children Democracy. This is not only a form of government, but a team of people working together in an atmosphere of freedom. This type of Democracy can truly become Brotherhood in action! Learn in yourselves; then, teach others that "differences" become a menace and food for hate only when we allow them to become "divisions" which result in prisons of mistrust and prejudice.

To paraphrase Dr. Martin Luther King's statement, "I have a dream...", I, too, have a dream; a dream that some glorious day man will cease his inhumanity to man. That he will have so much love in his heart he will be able to do no less than abide by the Word of the Great Law Giver: "This is my commandment, that ye love one another." "Love thy neighbor as thyself."

When this day comes, we shall truly have Brotherhood of Man under the Fatherhood of God.
NEWS and NOTES from the Alumnae Office

Changes in and Around

Many changes have occurred in and around the Alumnae Office during the summer months. Of particular significance was a wedding which was held shortly after Homecoming '66. On Saturday, June 18, Barbara Nancy Shaw '56, Director of Alumnae Affairs, became Barbara Shaw Hoffman '56. Barbara's husband, Richard, is an instructor in science at Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, New Hampshire. He received his B.S. from Union College in New York, and was awarded his master's and doctorate's from Harvard. The newly married couple spent their honeymoon in the Rocky Mountains and returned to Exeter where Richard resumed his duties at Phillips and Barbara started a new teaching position in the Exeter school system.

Welcome to Lesley College to Mr. F. Weston Prior, newly appointed Vice President for Development. Mr. Prior comes to Lesley from Northeastern University where he was Executive Director of the National Council. Activities of the new Vice President include working with Lesley Alumnae and other areas of interest handled by Mr. Jay Canavan, Jr. until he accepted a new position as Vice President of Chandler School for Women.

Library Book Fund

A new project, designated as the Library Book Fund, was presented at the Fall Meeting of the Lesley Alumnae Board. This project, which we feel will be of interest to all “Alums,” was established by Lesley Alumnae and unanimously accepted by the Lesley Alumnae Association. This is how the fund works:

Any Alumna who wishes to memorialize the name of a relative, friend, or member of the Lesley Community may make a gift in his or her name to the Library Book Fund. For each $5.00 given, a library book is purchased and a plate bearing the name of the donor and the person being honored is placed in the book. The family, in turn, receives a printed card, informing them of the tribute, and a facsimile of the book plate.

There are two purposes to the Library Book Fund: first, it perpetuates the memory of a deceased relative or friend; second, it will provide additional money to augment the present funds used in purchasing books for the Lesley Library.

Homecoming '66

ONE MAN'S IMPRESSIONS OF HOMECOMING '66
by James A. Hiltz

In the twinkling of an eye, the planning, the hard work of all concerned, the last minute arrangements — all had become history and the big weekend had arrived, along with gentle, warm weather, borne on southerly winds. Homecoming '66 was now a reality! It was Friday, June 3, and Lesley Alumnae were debarking from automobiles, buses, planes and trains. All were heading for the campus.

Many "alums" entered the campus from the Oxford Street side of the grounds, where they were greeted by a large "Welcome" sign. Others wound their way through the yards on the opposite side, passing the library on their way to registration tables set up in the Wolfard Room of the Administration Building.

Homecoming '66 committee members were on hand to extend a friendly hello to the returning "Lesleyites" and to help them get settled. Committee members were given green assistance in these pleasant duties by girls from the Lord Newark Society, an honor group of students, dedicated to aiding and assisting the college as public relations representatives of Lesley.

It was evident at once that the underlying theme for Homecoming '66 was relaxation and hospitality. From the first arrivals on Friday afternoon through Sunday morning, when heads were turned homeward, a feeling of genuine friendship and informality permeated the atmosphere at Lesley.

To visit with faculty members of Lesley College...

And to enjoy the pleasure of each other's company...

To once again stand before the Lesley College Photographer...

And permanently capture memories of "Homecoming '66."...

It started with the "Ice Breaker" in White Hall Lounge on Friday evening. "Alums" gathered there to meet old friends and make new acquaintances over cocktails, complete with background music supplied by members of the college staff.

On Saturday, the morning was filled with a wide variety of activities. There was a campus tour, an address by the President of the college, poetry reading, and the dedication of the new audio-visual laboratory. Saturday afternoon there were seminars, museum tours and tours of Boston, a cruise on the Charles River and a swimming party at the Harvard Pool.

The evening started early with a champagne reception for President Don A. Orton and members of the Board of Trustees. This was followed by a Terrace Buffet (the steak was luscious) and an evening of dancing and fun with Jerry Davis and his orchestra. Everything was held on campus.

At midnight, with the soft strains of the goodnight waltz drifting from White Hall, the trek to the dormitories began. Some of the more enthusiastic dancers, their feet now beginning to complain, removed their shoes as they left. Everyone was ready for a good night's sleep in anticipation of their homeward bound trip on Sunday morning.

Homecoming '66, the first reunion to be centered entirely around Lesley College's campus, was rapidly drawing to a successful conclusion. That the reunion was a huge success is evidenced by the fact that everyone in attendance was already looking forward to returning to Lesley next June for Homecoming '67.
The Connecticut Lesley Alumnae Association now has Area Representatives in 15 sections of the state in order to work more effectively with Lesley Alumnae in Connecticut. In addition, there is a Lesley Book Store Representative from whom alumns can order special college items.
