The Changing Admissions Scene 2
New Campus Happenings 7
Around the Campus 9
Annual Report of the Alumnae Association 11
Introducing Lorraine B. Shapiro, Alumnae President 13
This is the Year! 14
Club Notes 15
Class Notes 16
College testing is not without its effect. In recent years, Lesley has moved into a “rolling admissions” kind of a situation due to earlier testing by the College Entrance Examination Board. When a candidate’s testing is completed and her folder of information is compiled, she may be reviewed by the Admissions Committee quite early in the year. Many candidates are now notified of their admissions standing as early as January preceding their freshman year.

One aspect of the makeup of today’s students was illustrated earlier when their commitment to service was discussed. There is yet another segment in the makeup of today’s student that has a powerful effect on admissions and academic programs. Students have forced many colleges to test out ways to best utilize student expertise and to become more sensitive to their student bodies.

Lesley students have contributed a great deal to current programs on the campus. They include curriculum changes, student membership on major college committees, representation on governing boards. In addition, students are seen in new roles such as resident fellows, sponsors of all-college meetings, and weekend human relations conferences, and assessors of the function and activities of Lesley’s Student Government.

The recent high school graduate is not the only student who has changed the complexion of admissions offices across the country. A further elasticity has developed with the increasing numbers of potential former college dropouts, women and men from academic as well as social minority groups, particularly the black population of our country. There is much new thinking presently underway concerning college admissions practices for groups of this nature.

In the past year, Lesley was directly represented at twelve conferences on disadvantaged people. In addition, the Office of Admissions sponsored its own conference for 22 Boston area colleges and Upward Bound organizations. Some of the information gathered from activities of this nature was reflected in a set of guidelines developed by the Lesley Office of Admissions for the admission and financing of minority groups. This was passed as a resolution by the Board of Trustees last December.

Lesley’s admissions staff was also busy initiating new contacts and reaffirming old contacts with local and national agencies who could aid the College in recruiting, screening and admitting students from minority groups, with an emphasis on black students.

As more students from non-traditional backgrounds seek admission to Lesley and other colleges, admissions officers will be faced with a growing challenge to seek new ways in which to measure “admissions” readiness. Lesley’s “Guidelines for the Disadvantaged” is one such measurement that could be readily adapted to suit the needs of a variety of groups. There are other measurements that can be of tremendous help to these students who want to further their education.

CLEP (College Level Examination Program), for instance, was developed by the College Entrance Examination Board. This is designed to measure the non-affiliated student’s preparation for college and to determine the level at which the student should begin a program of higher education. Utilizing CLEP measurement, education gained through correspondence courses, job experiences, one’s own life experiences, independent reading, could result in “advanced standing” without formal college background.

SIGI (System of Interactive Guidance and Information), devised by the Educational Service, is narrower in its scope but, nevertheless, an important means of determining the overall qualities of potential college students. The system utilizes computer techniques to match junior college students with career possibilities, thus aiding in the selection of colleges with appropriate programs for students’ career objectives.

In considering factors contributing to the increasing fluidity found in admissions work, reference must, indeed, be made to the increasing volume of students who transfer from one college to another. Within the frame of reference of previous college experience, the transfer student is more education-minded, credit-conscious, and critical of curriculum. The admissions staff of this College is not immune to probing by the transfer student who seeks more adequate ways to correlate student teaching and education courses, and who also wants fair alternatives and substitutes in General Education studies.

Money, of course, always has and always will be an influence on admissions practices. But in recent years, the role of the dollar has become significantly wider in scope because of its source. The prime source of revenue for Lesley and other similar institutions is income from student enrollment. There must be a sufficient number of paying students in order to provide funds for the College to operate. There must also, however, be adequate funds to attract students — talented, disadvantaged or otherwise — who cannot underwrite the cost of a private college education. At the present time, 72% of all financial aid to Lesley students is out-of-pocket. The remaining 28% must come from new sources. The largest amount of outside funds comes from federal and state government funds, through Lesley’s participation in NDEA (National Defense Education Act) for which the College contributes one-ninth of the total money; and EOG (Education Opportunity Grant) in which all monies are matched in full by funds from the College. Acceptance of federal funds, however, implies silent consent to comply with policies governing the dispensation of these funds.

There is a final factor in the changing admissions scene and, to this writer, it is perhaps all-important.
This is the college environment itself. The aura of a school has, perhaps, even greater impact on admissions than all other factors together. It is a fact that 82% of all college-bound students go to a college in their home state; that almost all of them choose a college with a student body similar to themselves.

Because of this very strong influence, Lesley and other colleges must continuously survey themselves and answer these questions: What is the college really like? How does the college see itself? What types of students are attracted to the college? Are the programs special?

Of course, a college such as Lesley must ask additional questions: "Is Lesley's goal of a pluralistic student body realistic? Can Lesley be a genuine "Laboratory for Learning"? These questions must be answered in the light of current enrollment statistics on college-bound youth. Of the 42% who will choose to major in Education, how many will be young women who want to attend a small, female, private, urban, expensive, Massachusetts teachers college offering a program in elementary education, and having a human-relations/behavioral sciences oriented philosophy?

One of the ways in which answers to questions of this nature will be sought at Lesley in the coming year is through the establishment of an ad hoc advisory admissions committee of students and faculty. These people will work closely with the admissions staff and the regular admissions committee during the year in order to glean additional perspective into tasks facing admissions officers.

Other projects under consideration by the Office of Admissions is a special admissions seminar in Lesley's Experimental College, a volunteer, free-wheeling type of evening program available to all who wish to participate. It is also feasible that an open "admissions table" will be set up in the cafeteria during luncheons for students who want to engage in discussions concerning admissions and other factors relating to the College.

This has been merely a glimpse of the changing scene in admissions work, and Lesley does not have a monopoly on the factors that have been discussed. Every institution of higher education is faced with very similar situations, in addition to those factors that are peculiar to each individual institution.

---

New Campus Happenings...

Lesley Launches Campus Building Program

A $15 million campus development program was announced formally at the Annual Corporation Dinner on October 30, bringing to fruition many years of new campus planning. At the same time a "Million Dollar Campaign" was launched to complete the financing of the First Phase construction.

Construction will begin during 1970 on the First Phase which will cost approximately $4 million. Of this amount, the college now has a federal grant of $750,000 plus $2.25 million in low-interest loans. More than 600 persons attended the gala dinner at the Hotel Continental, including about 100 alumnae campaign committee members, the governing boards of the college, leading parents, the faculty and students.

Mr. Ervin Pietz, Trustee and chairman of the Steering Committee for the Building Program, explained that campaign workers will be seeking three-year pledges from all members of the college's governing boards, alumnae and parents, and gifts from foundations and corporations. The following goals were established:

- Governing Boards: $450,000
- Alumnae: $190,000
- Parents: $150,000
- Foundations, Corporations, Friends & Bequests: $300,000
- Other: $1,000,000

Mary McCarron Mead '25 represents the alumnue on the Steering Committee.

Commemorative Gift Opportunities

The tradition of commemorating in perpetuity the names of those who have shown faith in education and who have made outstanding contributions to the advancement of knowledge is older than our nation. At Lesley College, plaques commemorating the founder, her family and others — trustees, alumnue, parents and great teachers — mark the memory of those who gave their efforts or their resources to insure continuation and growth in education at Lesley.

Commemorative gift opportunities are available to those who would like to link a family name with Lesley's new campus. Please contact the President, the Chairman or any member of the Board of Trustees, or a member of the staff of the Development Office.
Alumnae Praise New Campus Plans

The new Campus plans described in the last issue of the Alumnae Review... evoked enthusiastic praise from Lesley Alumnae. In response to a questionnaire, several hundred alumnae of all ages gave their endorsement and many offered assistance in any forthcoming fund-raising efforts.

Typical of the comments received were:

"Fantastic!"

"Bold and progressive..."

"Gives me a sense of pride in being a Lesley alumna."

Ground-Breaking Target is Spring, 1970

Bids for the First Phase of construction are expected to be received during the winter months with actual construction to begin in the spring.

The First Phase will build approximately one third of the proposed $15 million campus, and will involve redevelopment of the area between White Hall and Mellen Street (See Plot Plan). White Hall, the Administration Building and Stobbins Hall will remain unchanged. Three of four multi-purpose buildings will be located on Oxford Street, with the fourth on the opposite side of the plaza or mall beside the new library.

In keeping with the concept of the whole campus as an urban academic village, and with the College's "laboratory" philosophy toward education, the First Phase will include instructional, social, housing and service areas. This will provide maximum opportunity for interaction between faculty, students and administration.

Located on the main level of the Oxford Street side will be a lecture hall for 200 students, a conference room, the Admissions offices, and two bays of student services including a coffee shop, laundry pick-up and bookstore. Across the mall will be the entrance level of the library.

Under the central portion of the mall is planned the needed space for mechanical equipment, service and receiving, and parking. The library's curriculum lab and audio-visual room also will be located on the lower level. Along Oxford Street will be the science and music classrooms.

The second level includes two classroom suites, open seminar areas, a faculty office suite, the periodical area of the library and the first floor of a house unit.

The third, fourth and fifth levels will contain additional library facilities and four house units. Each three level house unit is designed to include a residence director's apartment, lounge and study areas and single and double rooms for 36 students.

Dr. George L. Miller has been appointed vice president for academic affairs by the Lesley College Board of Trustees. In his new assignment, Dr. Miller will be responsible for the continuing development and implementation of academic programs on the undergraduate and graduate levels, and for Lesley's Schools for Children. Dr. Miller will also continue his work as Dean of Teacher Education.

Mr. John Tucker has been appointed vice president for financial affairs. In announcing his appointment, the Board of Trustees indicated that Mr. Tucker will handle all financial functions and transactions for Lesley College. Mr. Tucker came to Lesley 4 years ago as treasurer.

NEW ENGLAND KINDERGARTEN CONFERENCE

The Lesley-sponsored New England Kindergarten Conference continues to grow. A record attendance of 1,200-plus educators were at the conference in November. Dr. Leland B. Jacobs, of Teachers College at Columbia University, delivered the keynote address at the day-long meeting. Mrs. Mary B. Mindess, Associate Professor of Early Childhood Education at Lesley, was chairman of the event. This year's conference will be held in Boston on November 21st. Further information will be available to all Lesley Alumnae.
Homcoming '69 was pure success, as may be evidenced from the faces of some "fifty-niners" during the dinner in White Hall.

Margaret Mead was surrounded by students, faculty, and visitors as they engaged in lively conversation during the famed anthropologist's visit to Lesley.

Announcing was in order during the annual show at Parents' Weekend. Girls reflected on college life in a review entitled "Those Were the Days."

Sanders Theatre was filled with happy faces and the laughter of young children who thrilled to the music and fun when Tony Salataen, noted children's folk singer, presented "Sing Children Sing!" The event was sponsored by the Lesley College Alumnae Association.

Dr. Samuel A. Kirk, noted educator (center), goes over program with Mr. Floyd L. Berntz, Director of the Lesley College Schools for Children (left) and Dr. Elmer E. Van Egmond, Dean of General Education. Dr. Kirk presented the Commencement Address and had bestowed upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Humane Letters during Lesley’s commencement exercises in May.

Annual Report of the Alumnae Association
Janet M. Silva G '58
President, Lesley College Alumnae Association 1968-69

The moment has come to make an accounting for my stewardship as President of the Alumnae Association for 1968-1969. I feel that we have progressed toward a more cohesive and active alumnae body. There have also been some notable firsts chaired by capable Directors of the Board during this year.

Our first event, "Up the Down Staircase" planned by Marilyn Beach G '67 and Joyce Marshall Snyder '61 of the Continuing Education Committee for December 12, 1968, involved alumnae professionals from various representative Massachusetts school systems. The alumnae volunteers contribute their time and talent by providing counsel and information concerning their particular systems to members of the Class of 1969 who were preparing for job interviews.

The second "first", chaired by Joyce Marshall Snyder '61 on May 17, 1969, at Sanders Theatre in Cambridge, was "Sing, Children, Sing", a presentation by Channel 2 children's folk singer, Tony Saletan. This program was specifically geared to younger alumnae and their children. One special feature, oriented toward community service, was the donation of complimentary tickets purchased by alumnae and friends to local settlement house groups. Treasurer of the Association, Margaret Shamon Delany '50, greatly aided Joyce in the handling of finances for the program.

Lastly in the chain of firsts was a "Dial-a-thon" telephone campaign organized by Lorraine Blondes Shapiro '42 and Eileen MacElarney '53 and held on May 1, 5, 6 under the auspices of the Annual Giving Program.

A basic part of the Association offering for 1968-1969 was the ongoing core of programs. "Step-Up Night" on May 6, 1969, chaired by Gail Roberts Dussault '60, who was assisted in her efforts by Joyce Karp Rosenthal '60, took on a new dimension. It was held in White Hall with all participants in academic dress. We feel that the tone of quiet reflection and emotion was a significant step toward resurrecting a lovely tradition at Lesley.

On May 3, 1969, the Scholarship Committee met under the direction of Margaret Shamon Delany '50 to interview candidates for the Gertrude Malloch Alumnae Award. Lively group interviews proved of interest to both committee members and applicants. Miss Ellis Lenthal '70 was chosen recipient of the Award and attended Homecoming on June 7 for its presentation at the Annual Association Meeting. Her gracious acceptance speech pleased all present.

"Homecoming '69" was chaired effectively by Myrtle Peirce Aulenbach '39, Eileen O'Leary O'Loughlin '39 and Geraldine Nye Pedrini '63. A special effort was made this year to provide both full daytime and evening programs in order to meet the needs of various alumnae. The morning program was initiated with the Annual Association Meeting. Early afternoon brought brilliant sunshine and a lovely buffet luncheon. Following the luncheon, alumnae chuckled at the clever sketches of cartoonist Roger Pahlquist who pecked round the theme: "Be Glad You’re a Gal."
Evening festivities included a Champagne Reception, prime rib of beef dinner and dancing to Ken Reeves and his orchestra. Highlights were the slide presentation and address by Neill Smith, architect for the projected new campus and the presentation of the Alumnae Award to the Board of Trustees, represented by Mr. Ervin Pietz, Chairman of the Steering Committee for the Lesley College Building Program.

The Club System functioned under the able guidance of Jean Cogan McKean '52, Marilyn English Riley '59 and Barbara Barron Schilling '50. A concentrated drive was made this year to send a board officer or director to at least one meeting per area club during the year.

Miss Adele Gruener '20 continued as custodian of our archives. Several interesting pieces have been discovered including the original stained wood “Lesley School” sign.

Mrs. Doris Kimball Newman '31 has performed again with success as Chairman of the Nominating Committee by presenting our new president, Lorraine Blondes Shapiro '42 with a fine slate of supporting officers and directors.

Fund raising was an integral part of the year’s activities. Chairmen for the Annual Giving Program were Eileen MacElarney '53, G '56 and Lorraine Blondes Shapiro '42.

Through their enthusiasm a substantial gain in alumnae participation was realized. We are represented in the Lesley College Building Program planning by Polly Wilson Connell '26 and Mary McCarron Mead '25.

In my opening message to you last year, it was my privilege to announce the appointment of Miss Catherine Ham as Director of Alumnae Relations. I find myself in just the reverse situation for my final report. Miss Ham has left under the same pleasant circumstances as her predecessor. Catherine was married to Dr. Anthony Bryan Moore of Miami, Florida in August. The Moores will reside in Amherst. We extend to them our best wishes for happiness and success. Catherine’s departure is a great loss to us since she has executed her role as Director of Alumnae Relations with a charming, pleasant manner, thorough organization and true dedication. It is due, in large part, to her continued work that the Association has advanced smoothly and successfully during my term.

The most exciting piece of news, I have saved until the end in hopes that it will thrill all alumnae as it did the Board of Directors. It gives me great pleasure to announce that a new Faculty-Alumnae Club is programmed for the second phase of Lesley’s building program. In the projected plan, the Alumnae Lounge will reflect the history of Lesley in decor and atmosphere, and will include the portraits and artifacts recalling Lesley’s past. In order to realize this plan, the Alumnae Board has agreed unanimously to support the College in its efforts on the forthcoming Capital Campaign.

In conclusion, I wish to thank each and every one of you for your support and participation during the year 1968-1969, and in particular, for the symbol of your appreciation of my services as President, the attractive Lesley chair presented to me at the Annual Association Meeting. I will thoroughly enjoy using it.

My best wishes to Lorraine Blondes Shapiro '42 in her term in office and to the Alumnae Association as it continues to expand and define its image.

Introducing Lorraine B. Shapiro, Alumnae President, 1969-70

Lorraine Blondes Shapiro '42 always has felt close to Lesley College. There are a number of reasons.

First, she felt that Lesley prepared her well for teaching nursery school and kindergarten for several years, until her marriage in 1947. Then, her sister, Evelyn Blondes Lamb, followed her as a student at Lesley, graduating in 1948. Now her own daughter, Deborah, is a Lesley Freshman.

Lorraine, a resident of Haverhill, has been active in the Merrimac Valley Alumnae Club for a number of years, and has served on the club’s board of directors. She was a co-chairman of The Homecoming Dinner Dance for her 25th reunion in 1967. She was first elected to the board of the Alumnae Association in 1968-69 and served during the year as co-chairman of the highly successful Alumnae Annual Giving Program. Her nomination to the presidency was a natural step to follow.

Following the death of her husband in 1955, Lorraine entered a new career in the chemical business, as salesman for the American Finish and Chemical Company. Her interest in Lesley has never dimmed, however, and she has encouraged several girls to enroll in the College.

In addition to her Lesley activities, Lorraine has served in the Women’s Division of Brandeis University, the Council of Jewish Women and Hadassah. She was president of the Haverhill Chapter of Hadassah for two years, and also served as a regional vice president.
Many said it would never happen, but it is happening!

This IS the year when the new campus building program gets under way. As you may read elsewhere in this publication, about $3 million has been raised from government and private sources to start the first Phase construction, leaving only about $1 million yet to be pledged, mostly from individuals. The target date for ground-breaking is Spring of 1970.

What does this mean to the Alumnae Association? Through the resolution passed by your board last January, we already have pledged to assist the efforts of the college’s Board of Trustees to make the campus dream a reality. Now that the Trustees have largely done their part to bring the Building Program this far, the onus is partly on us to give the back-up they need.

Certainly, we alumnae are not expected to raise all the additional money needed to build the campus. But we certainly are expected to raise a realistic piece of it through a combination of fund-raising and public relations activities.

I think our mission is clear. We must direct our association programs — those already established and those that may be developed — so that they may meaningfully contribute to the goal that has been set for the College this year.

Personally, I believe we have a strong board and proven leadership for the task ahead, and I want to thank those who are returning to the board and the new members for joining the team.

We have some high standards to live up to, and a challenging objective.

If we are to be successful (and I’m sure we will be), this is the year we must display our loyalty to Lesley and our pride in its accomplishments. Our College has grown tremendously in size and stature, and we as an alumnae organization must continue to grow with it.

I would like to see many new faces on our committees and attending our programs. This is the year for more active participation — don’t wait to be asked, let us know your interest. This is the year, also, to hear from everyone with their suggestions and ideas. Don’t hesitate to call on me or any of the board members.

With your interest, support and involvement, I know that this will be a great year for our College and our Alumnae Association. I look forward to working with each and every one of you.

Lorraine Blondes Shapiro ‘42
President, Lesley College Alumnae Association 1969-70

Club Notes

BROOKLINE-NEWTON

“Lesleiten” from the Brookline-Newton area welcomed spring at their annual luncheon in May. The Pillar House Restaurant provided a lovely setting for the event. To top off a delicious meal, Virginia Tashjian, librarian for the Newton Public Library, reviewed several of the latest offerings from the literary world. Everyone enjoyed her presentation and went home armed with “musts” for their reading lists. Committee members were Barbara Paul Holzman and Barbara Barron Schilling. The winter meeting was held in February at Chestnut Hill and featured a lively presentation by Susan Rutstein and Bunny Freedman of “The Black Velvet Cushion.” Carol Konter Papermaster served on the committee with Barbara Schilling and Barbara Holzman.

CENTRAL MIDDLESEX

The newly formed Central Middlesex Club had its first meeting at the Sheraton-Lexington Motor Inn in April. A delightful luncheon was served followed by a demonstration and talk by Mrs. Desyle R. Schmedes on making party decorations and paper flowers. At the conclusion of the program, four of Mrs. Schmedes’ flowers were auctioned with the proceeds earmarked for the Alumnae Scholarship Fund. Committee members were Gulf Roberts Dussault, Eileen O’Leary O’Laughlin, Mary McCormon Mead and Gertrude Nye Pedrini.

MERRICK VALLEY

The winter meeting was held in January at the Lanam Club in Andover. During a cocktail hour preceding the luncheon, a “Rock it to Me” grab bag brought donations for the club’s $50 contribution to the Scholarship Fund. Dr. Boris Gerra, Director of Lesley’s Graduate Program, spoke to the group about “Group Experience and Human Relations Training,” an approach being used by Education, Business and Industry in seeking ways in which people can work more effectively with each other.

NORFOLK COUNTY

Lesley Alumnae met at the home of Frederica Van Wick Cox in April for dinner and coffee. Special guest was Don A. Orton, who outlined the proposed plans for the new campus and showed slides of the architect’s renderings of what is to become the new Lesley College. Area towns and their representatives included in this club are: Dedham, Patricia McHugh Ford; Dover, Nancy Sheather, Frederica Van Wick Cox; Natick, Marnin Kilby Thrush; Wellesley, Barbara Yehstof Liepmann; Weston, Carol Crockett Everett.

NORTH SHORE

The “Ship”, on Rt. 1, hosted a March meeting of the North Shore Alumnae and their husbands. Everyone enjoyed a nautical catering menu, party company and an interesting slide presentation of Lesley’s new campus. Accompanying the guest speaker, Mr. F. Weston Prior, Vice President for Development at Lesley College, were Catherine Horn, Alumnae Director, and Mrs. June Bolley ’60, a Lesley Alumna involved in pre-capital campaign planning. Marilyn English Bailey ’59, was Program Chairman of the evening. The November meeting was held in the home of Marjorie Storm, whose husband, Henderson, presented a film set to music of the Storm’s travels in Europe. It was a most enjoyable evening for all.

SOUTH SHORE

The first meeting of the newly recognized Lesley College South Shore Alumnae Club was held in April at the Chartier House Restaurant in Braintree. Beverly Crosby, Goldman ’61, co-chairman of the dinner meeting, introduced the head table guests. They were: Dolores Gloszer Orkin ’60, Acting Secretary of the South Shore Club; Joyce Munhall Snyder ’61, Secretary of the Lesley College Alumnae Association; and Barbara Caras Fishman ’61, co-chairman of the evening; Catherine Ham, Director of Alumnae Affairs; and Barbara Schwartz ’65, Vice President of Development at Lesley.

Mr. Prior made an informative and interesting presentation on development of the new campus. More than twenty-five Alumnae were in attendance and all of them were looking forward to the next meeting to be held this Fall.

SAN FRANCISCO AND BAY AREA

A May luncheon was held at the delightful “Allied Arts” in Meviso Park. Wonderful food, beautiful gardens, smart décor and most unusual gifts combined to create a marvelous experience for more than 20 Alumnae. The College expresses special thanks to members of the San Francisco and Bay Area Club for their lovely book entitled “Unofficial Art in the Soviet Union.” It is a welcome addition to the library and the autograph of its author, Igor Mead, is appreciated.

Dr. Don A. Orton visited the California area during the months of March and April. Informal evenings were pre-arranged in order to introduce Alumnae to Lesley’s planned “urban academic village” and the educational philosophy behind it.

WORCESTER

The Worcester Club had a very active year. A Spring Luncheon was held in April at the Mount Pleasant Country Club in West Boylston, and Junita M. Silvo ’58, then President of the Alumnae Association, spoke about Lesley’s current goals and programs. A Project Meeting was highlighted by Nancy Greer Goff ’59 and Caryl Morone Montello ’57 in February. Money realised from the evening was used for the Scholarship Fund. In January a Social Board Meeting was held at the home of Club President, Barbara Goff. A birthday party was held in October to celebrate the Worcester Club’s 5th birthday. At that time officers for the coming year were installed.
Barrish, Marion Buch et al., Harriet Carolyn "Villa Vista Abbe-Gail" in Enfield, Conn.

Campaign.

the alumnae phase of the Capital of the recent death of representative for her area on the Club. She will be serving as had been serving as house mother.

Army in Europe. Daughter, Kathleen, was

University and is presently with the U.S.

in Framingham.

Mory McCarroll Mead is continuing her recently, bequeathed a sum of $1,000 to

of Directors and is also heading up

24 Patten Street in Watertown.

Marion Smith Linehan, resident of Cambridge and former teacher in the Helene Mory McCarroll Mead is continuing her of Directors. Marguerite deserves special mention for her expert management of abilities have been well demonstrated in the baseball umpires Development Association, The Debby's will make their home in St. Petersburg, Fla.

Nominating Committee this year. Anne and her husband, Robert, live in in Arlington.

Cecil Cogan McKee, who recently returned from a trip to South America, will serve again this year on the Board of Director. Special thanks go to Joan for her fine job as President pro-tem during the early winter months, and for her assistance as Vice-President for the Burbo Ann Cushing married Richard L. Hoffman in Southminster, Conn. The Hoffmans plan to settle in Wallingford at 9 Segwin Circle.

The College extends its sympathies to the family of Doris McGregor Henderson, who passed away in March after a long illness.

After an initiation to Association activities through her work as

Co-Chairman of the Annual Giving Fund. Ellen MacEleney will join the Board of Directors in the fall.

Janice M. Ryan married Richard L. Plus last summer. They now live in Mayfield, Ohio.

As a member of the Kindergarten guest of the Glover School in Marblehead, Irma Schafikin Goldstein participated in a November 7 program etitled "Preparing Your Child for School." Irma teaches the accelerated class at the Glover School.

Jane D'Allierios Johnson of Plainville, Conn., has been acting in summer stock from Kennethport, Me. to Mt. Southminster, Conn.

Delli McCauley Schultz writes that her two children, Heather and Holly, are in third grade and kindergarten.

with the Accelerated Program of the Baseball Umpires Development.

Congratulations to Belinda Barthelemy and her husband, Rob, on the birth of their daughter, Andrea Beth, last September. The DiBenedettos are currently living in

New York, N.Y.

Congratulations to Marilyn English

Fowler, who will serve as Co-Chairman of the Alumnae Association during the coming year.

Gail Roberts Dusseault, of Belmont, was actively involved in the activities of the Association this past year, particularly in planning "The Down Staircase Night." She also chaired the

"Step-up Night" Committee.

Dede Shiley Hodelman has expressed her thanks to fellow classmates who have forthrightly served on the 1968-1969 Annual Alumnae Giving Committee. A warm

THANK YOU to:

Marye Julienne Abbe

Sheila Bridekirk Byers

Joyce Leonard Ciampi

Gail Roberts Dusseault

Joyce Jackson Ford

Paula Rozomofsky Horn

Sandra Franklin Keller

William Goldsicker Packer

Joyce Kent Rosenhek

Carol Schlossman Voci

Elaine Zucker Wox

Dede says she'll be there June 25 at 8 PM at Sunset Dinner, Redlands, Calif.

Joslyn Hills Kirkpatrick and her family are living in a suburb west of Chicago where they find Midwesterners to be warm and Chicagoans to be exciting. The Kirks have three children: Dana, 3; Eric, 2, and Brad, 10 months. Joslyn is still active as a reading education teacher.

Rae Dinner: Seife, a four-year resident of Binghamton, N.Y., tells us that she and her husband, Irwin, have two children: Jeffrey, 2, and Danielle, 1. Rae is a medical student at

Chief Radiologist at Binghamton General Hospital. Rae would like to hear from some of her friends.

THANK YOU to:

Marie Julienne Abbe

Sheila Bridekirk Byers

Joyce Leonard Ciampi

Gail Roberts Dusseault

Joyce Jackson Ford

Paula Rozomofsky Horn

Sandra Franklin Keller

William Goldsicker Packer

Joyce Kent Rosenhek

Carol Schlossman Voci

Elaine Zucker Wox

Dede says she'll be there June 25 at 8 PM at Sunset Dinner, Redlands, Calif.

Joslyn Hills Kirkpatrick and her family are living in a suburb west of Chicago where they find Midwesterners to be warm and Chicagoans to be exciting. The Kirks have three children: Dana, 3; Eric, 2, and Brad, 10 months. Joslyn is still active as a reading education teacher.

Rae Dinner: Seife, a four-year resident of Binghamton, N.Y., tells us that she and her husband, Irwin, have two children: Jeffrey, 2, and Danielle, 1. Rae is a medical student at

Chief Radiologist at Binghamton General Hospital. Rae would like to hear from some of her friends.

1961

Joon Serkin Drizkler is the mother of three boys: Jeffrey, 5; Danny, 2½; and Adam, 1. Her husband, Steve, is presently a Resident in Urology at Massachusetts General Hospital and they are living in a brand new home on 18 White Road in Wellesley.

Congratulations to Sally Alice Gilman and her husband, 4 months. Her husband, Steve, is happy in their new home in Burlington.

Joyce Marshall Snyder has contributed to the success of several Association programs this past year, especially her work on "Up the Down Staircase Night" and the "Silk Stockin" Presentation. "Sing, Children, Sing." Joyce is currently the Secretary of the Alumni Board and will serve in this capacity during 1960-61.

1962

Linda King Edgar writes, "Bill and I have two "red-headed" twin boys born on January 1, 1960." The Edgars enjoy all the pleasures and challenges of parenthood and report that they are happy in their new home in Burlington.

Marjorie McCoy Fleming now makes her home in Wadhurst, Ohio. She has three children, ages 6, 4, and 2. The Flemings are living at 387 Tolhurst Street. A note from Susions Hallowee tells us that she and her husband, Bill, are the very happy parents of a very talkative daughter, Jennifer, and a lively little boy named Andrew. The Howes make their home in Dallas, Tex., Va.

Davet Lacy joined the family of Morgan and Mary McGee and her husband, Bill, in April. Congratulations.

Judith Bonen Rotherenberg, a sixth grade teacher in the Brookline School System, served as a resource person for "Up the Down Staircase Night" in December.

1963

Sally Salitz Bernstein tells us of West Coast-East Coast swing. After graduation, she said and husband, Lenny, moved to Palo Alto, Calif., where he studies medicine at Harvard U.B.A. at Stanford Business School and she taught fourth grade in Redwood City.

The Bernstein's and their children have now returned to this area and are residing in Natick, at 14 Daniels Drive.

Congratulations to Dolores Glasser Okuk and her husband, Don, on the February arrival of Laura Susan Okuk. The Okuk's are a "three-timer" family. Jeffrey Scott, age 4, and Beth Lisa, age 3. Dolores still manages to be "where the action is" through tutoring and involvement in the newly formed South School Parent Club.

Last December brought a new addition to the family of Genieve Faye Pedrini and her husband, Antonio. A little baby boy named Richard Ralph Jr. is now keeping Gerry on her toes. He will be serving on the Association Nominating Committee for the coming year.

Linda Leviston Radding and husband, Ed, who is Media Director for Gillette Trolleys of Boston, are living in a new home in the Framingham area. The Raddings have a 2½ yr. old daughter, Jennifer.

Representing the special area of teaching perceptually handicapped, Mrs. Leslie Wolensky, from the Burlington School System, was on hand for "Up the Down Staircase Night."

1964

Joyce Finkelstein writes that she enjoys keeping up with Leslie's progress via the "Review." After two years of teaching with the U.S. Government in Weinheim, Germany, she plans to transfer to Japan, "in order to see more of the world and be exposed to a new culture."

Diana Schaffer Lewiston reports that, "the past five years have been hectic and eventful ones. After a year of teaching and obtaining a B.S. Degree from Columbia University's Teachers College, I was married to Stephen Lewiston. I then taught another two years while my husband completed law school and a year's clerkship in the Rhode Island Supreme Court. Steve is now Assistant to the President of Barclay Limited in Boston while I am acting as Consultant for the Emotionally Disturbed in the State Department of Education in Rhode Island."

Joining another alumni of the "sixties," Judith Digg Potter came back to Wellesley in December to represent the Kindergarten branch of the Boston School System at "Up the Down Staircase Night." Judy is now living at 1 Brook Street in Brookline.

Best wishes to Shirley Silibovitz and Robert L. Finkelstein who were married in May.

Susan Golden Torris reports that she and her husband, Richard, are presently living in Homestead, N.Y., and that he has 4½ years of teaching to his "returne" to become a full-time father. Her baby, Karin Lynn, born February 23.

A line from Linda Hecht Tartau reveals that she now has a new baby girl, Elaine Liss, in December. Her husband is working as a systems engineer for RCA in Hartford where the Littles are residing at 218 Main Street.

An Alumni of Wellesley's Graduate School Mrs. Dowen Hartshorne writes that her two children, currently "head teacher" (principal) of the Bosbyrton Community School. Describing the school, Dr. Dowen writes, "The school under the tutelage of the children, which could contribute much to established schools in our country."

Our best wishes, Doreen, for continued success.

1965

Congratulations to Judith Anne Dunn who became Mrs. Arthur W. Graham last May. Judy and her husband, an end on the Board of Directors, are residing in 218 Wauconset Avenue, Wilmington.

Noni Doyle, President of the Greater Worcester County Club for 1967-1968, will serve on the Nominating Committee for the coming year.

Beverly Siskind Kohn and her husband Roger, who is associated with the Wall Street brokerage firm of McDonnell & Co., are living in Laurence Stuart last December. The Kahns have made their home at 178 Westerkirk, Jamaica Early.

Presently teaching reading in Grade 1 of the Malden Public School System, Elizabeth B. Kliman, an alumna of the Graduate School, came back to Wellesley for "Up the Down Staircase Night."

Gloria Knell writes that in August, 1968, she married Bernard Maglizzi, a '65 graduate of M.I.T. After a Bermuda honeymoon, Gloria returned to her second grade class in Winsted, Conn., and her husband to his position as an aeronautical engineer at Hamilton Standard. The matron of honor, Carol Brunner Roberts, came all the way from Arizona to stand for the wedding ceremony. The Maglizzi's make their home at 585 Blue Hill Ave., Apt. J, Bloomfield, Conn.

Gayle E. MacDonald, who has been working with New England Telephone since 1960, has recently been appointed staff instructor in Quincy.

Nancy Jonzone Mollen became the bride of Joseph Meehan, Jr., in July. The Meehans will live in Lowell.

Carol Brunner Roberts informs us that she and her husband, who have been living in Scottsdale, Ariz., for the past three and one half years, have recently moved to N.H., where Steve is working as an electrical engineer. The Roberts' baby, who has been a 20 month old daughter, Becky, and a new baby born in March.

Congratulations to Hurriet Soli Simon and her husband, Robert, on the birth of their new son, Douglas Eric last October.

1966

"Sixty-sixers" arrived en masse to participate in "Up the Down Staircase Night." However, Included in this junior-senior-club members were: Nancy E. Rigg of Newton, Patricin Devlin of Wellesley, Linda Bender of Northboro, Judith Kysa Howe of Newton, Barbara Burlington, N.Y., and Louise and G. Weston of Newton.

Marlina Sorgun Birn completed her Master's Degree Work at B.U. and is a social worker at St. Vincent Hospital in Worcester. Her husband, Michael, is studying for his Ph.D. in Physics at Worcester Polytechnic Institute. Their address is 81 N. Ashland Street, Worcester.

Diane Clevello is teaching this year in North Reading.

Shelley Culpin became Mrs. John E. Derry, Jr., in Cranston, in July. Shirley is currently living with her parents in Cranston until her husband completes helicopter pilot school and does his tour of duty in Vietnam with the Army. In January, 1966, she occupies her space moments with her parents.

Congratulations to Joanne Lippert Goodman who will be Associate Director of the Alumni Association Board of Directors this year. Joanne and husband, William, are living at 23 Carter Street in Wellesley.

June Atwater Hope reports that she was married in August, 1968, to Bob, the same Bob I was going with all through Wellesley; "The Hains have bought a house in Danbury and are living at 221 Summer Street. Jane is teaching second grade in Hingham and "still loving it!"

Last year Joan Wilson — now Joan Wilson Yow — and her husband, Richard, went to Venezuela. She spent the year teaching brain damaged children in the Caracas Study School. During a severe earthquake, she met her husband to be, Dave, a Peace Corpsman. The Hains are presently both attending North Texas University. Joan is teaching first grade and working on her Master's in counseling. Robert is doing "big work" with his new World rate and bred "Munchkins," the national dog of Venezuela.

Married during the spring and summer were Celeste Amento to Lawrence John Bangs on May 20; and Mary Gillis to John K. O'Brien on May 30; and Sylvia; Eileen Beth Cutler to Jay Harlan Esposito, also married were Barbara Marie Hahn to Sherman S. May Wily to Thomas L. Stripling. Upon receiving an M.A. in degree in January, 1968, Joyce Sicherman formerly attended teachers' special class for children with learning disabilities. Jayme's husband, Stephen, is employed as a social worker in Merrimac Valley School District and the Horovitz family now live at 346 Kennard Road, Manchester.

1967

Ellen Hewitt Atkins announces the birth of a daughter, Sarah, on September 11, 1967. The Atkins family now live at 43 Arm, Cambridge.

Joining Barbara Beaubourn, a grade three teacher in Chelmsford, at "Up the Down Staircase Night" were Marilyn Beach of the Brookline School Department and specialist working in the Community Action Program, and Margaret O'Neill Yuswuki, who is a representative of Headstart.

Congratulations to Marilyn Beach who will serve again as 2nd Vice-President of the Alumni Association for the coming year.

Best wishes to Susan L. Glerie and John J. Hughes, Jacqueline Ann Hart and Richard E. Leach and Janet Lipman and John Brennan.
Marjorie Daner, who received her Master's Degree in 1967, was married to Dr. Thomas A. G. Sos in July. A note from Ellen Smith Klein reveals that she is teaching second grade in the Colonial School District and working towards her M.A. at Temple University. Her husband, Richard, is a third year graduate student in the Ph.D. program for Electrical Engineering at Penn. Sherrill Roberts Moriarty and her husband make their home in Storrs, Conn. They now have two sons: Scott Ralph, two years old and Albert S., Jr., 8 months old.

Deborah Slater Myers reports that she and husband, Herbert, are living in Belmont, at 8 Linden Ave. Deborah is presently substituting teaching Kindergarten at the Cambridge School System.

Cynthia (Bentley) Pentecost writes that she is teaching sixth grade in North Bergen, N.J. Her husband, Carmen, is employed by Price Waterhouse of N.Y. City. The Pentecosts now live at 3001 Boulevard East, West New York, N.J.

A letter from Carolyn Bourne informs us that she is teaching a special class in Duxbury and is engaged to Charles Kronengold, a B.U. graduate and student at New Jersey College of Medicine.

Many recent graduates were married during the summer. Among them are Arlene Susan Glaser to Michael Ira Sobol; Lindo R. Greengberg to Stephen D. Desatnik; Susan Jone Hill to Robert Leon Shell. Also Corolonne McLoughlin married Lt. Daniel J. Donovan, U.S.A., and Faith Ackerman and Tobey Silbstein were bridesmaids for Carol Reissman when she married Richard Blum.

The Lesley Alumni Review is a publication of Lesley College, 29 Everett Street, Cambridge, Massachusetts 02138.