"And Gladly Wolde He Lerne And Gladly Teche"

PRESIDENT WHITE'S OPEN HOUSE MESSAGE

Perhaps no other occasion in our Lesley life is quite so joyous and leaves us so thoroughly proud as Open House. We parade our best and most characteristic accomplishments; we greet with sincere enthusiasm many interesting new friends; we find our very best reason for "being" on this magic April Saturday. It is, then, a day of "mosts" and all of us are, in truth, today, the lengthened shadow of our founder, Edith Lesley.

To our guests we say thrice welcome! This is Lesley where, for nearly half a century, high and prep school graduates have been transmuted into college alumnae. This is where campus and classroom experiences are turned into mellow memories; where friendships are made for all the years ahead. Here young people learn the meaning of service above self and the satisfactions of each individual in giving that service. Our standards, therefore, are high; our achievements in the same measure. We hope you will find as much happiness in visiting Lesley College as we do in having you with us.

TRENTWELL MASON WHITE
