The Lesleyan
Class of 1953

Lesley College
Cambridge, Massachusetts
FOREWORD

We, the class of 1953, have now completed our journey aboard the U. S. S. Lesley. During these four years, through the combination of attainment of knowledge and relaxation, we have been bound to each other, our friends and Lesley by ties which will never be broken. By sharing the joys and sorrows of our fellow crew members, we have grown in understanding and the realization of true friendship.

Through the guidance and inspiration of our officers, we have learned to set our goals and have found the satisfaction in working to attain them.

Though our paths now separate, we thank Lesley for being the compass by which we now set our courses to seek our own Future Islands. Something of her leaves and will remain with each of us.

NANCY COLEMAN,
Editor-in-chief
We dedicate this book to

ELIZABETH C. LINDSAY

With respect and admiration

for—her sincerity

her friendly smile
her devotedness to her work
her vast knowledge her humbleness and her encouragement.

We are privileged to have worked with her.

Mrs. Lindsay and her two children, Nick & Susan, posed for this picture in 1944. Both children are now married and have presented eight grandchildren to a very proud grandmother.

Barbara Mcllroy, Mrs. Lindsay and Janice Ryan are having a happy time at the Oxford Hall Christmas Party.
In Appreciation

To Catherine E. DeLuca

The Lesleyan staff, in appreciation of your untiring efforts and patience in producing this Lesleyan, wishes to take this opportunity to express their deepest and most sincere thanks.
The personal friendliness you have shown to each one of us has helped to guide us through our college days. We shall always think of you as a part of Lesley.

The understanding and guidance you have given us as an instructor and a friend have inspired us to strive for our higher ideals.

LOYAL LESLEY DAUGHTERS

Words and Music by Trentwell Mason White

Dedicated to the Class of 1948

Loyal Lesley daughters
Rise in chorus
Lift our voices joyously.
Thus we sing our
Foster mother’s glories.
For the days that are to be
Happy friends made here
We'll long hold dear —
True companions since we met
With such love to guide us.
Nothing can divide us,
Lesley, we shall not forget.

Loyal Lesley daughters
Stand and praise her.
Hail her splendid history.
As the years go by
They build a tie —
Linking ev’ry memory.
Pledge we now our
Alma Mater’s future.
All our hearts in constancy.
Lesley’s name shall ever,
Spur us to endeavor.
Honors new to bring to thee.

THE BEST YEARS OF OUR LIVES

OUR FRESHMAN YEAR

How wonderful it seemed to be on the famous U.S.S. Lesley for the first time, and anticipating a bright, exciting four years at the various ports! Bon Voyage!

What exciting times we had that year! Most of us will always remember our Freshman week in that first port. Oh, never to have to carry cigarettes or candy for the Seniors again—not to mention the bowing down. Remember when we were brought into the Senior Freshman Week Court for the various crimes we committed? Now that we look back at it we all really enjoyed ourselves that week.

We could not have chosen the class officers more wisely in our first year. Pat Howard was our President, aided by Jan Grant as Vice-President. Zoe Elberhardt as Secretary, and Barbara Hest as our Treasurer. Mrs. MacCormack was appointed our ship's Captain to weather the storms with us.

In our first port we decided to do something quite different—a Fashion Show. This was held at the Hotel Commander, with Barbara Martin as its chairman—a very excellent choice. The girls loved being in it, and it was a grand success.

Actually, the greatest success of this year may still say was our Freshman Prom, co-chairmen, Mary Ferrick and Jan Ryan—which was held at the Parker House Hotel. It proved to be a perfect setting as we had anticipated for our first College Prom. This was the culminating affair of the year—and led us into another year of wonderment.

OUR SOPHOMORE YEAR

Under the able leadership of Jan Grant, Jan Ryan, Brenda Tidbold, and Jane Carey, we confidently started into our second port. Captain MacCormack was invaluable to us in helping pilot our way when the going was rough.

Our first party this year was given in honor of our new crew members. This proved to be a great welcome and the friendships made have not been forgotten. Beautiful girls, floating gowns, and melodious music comprised the setting for the Snowflake Ball, held at the Hampshire House. Barbara Marlin and Beverly Kupensmith were the co-chairmen of our Prom, and their efforts helped make the event a more successful one.

Work soon began aboard ship for our Sophomore Show, “Memories of Yeat’ryear.” Jan Grant really proved to be very able as our director, as well as class president. We entertained at the Commander Hotel and people came from all parts to see our show. The clowns and their tricks, the Gay Nineties bathing beauties, and our famous can-can girls were only some of the attractions which helped to make the night a huge success.

“Spring Stroll of 35,” planned by Jan Marlin, provided sports, food and fun. The affair was held at Snow’s Inn. Baseball games, ping-pong, tennis, and swimming were just a few of the activities enjoyed by the passengers. After a delicious dinner, everyone danced in their stocking feet or popped corn in front of a huge fireplace. There couldn’t have been a more delightful ending to a very wonderful year.

OUR JUNIOR YEAR

With Captain MacCormack as pilot, our ship sailed into our third port, where we elected Nancy Coleman president of our crew, Jan Ryan, vice-president, Brenda Tidbold secretary until she was called away to active duty and Harriet Clinton became our new secretary. To amuse and spend wisely our money, Marilyn Driscoll was chosen. Mary Gilpin, was our representative to the Student Government Association, and to publicize everything about us and our ship, we elected the indispensable Carthy Finley.

Looking back, it all stands out vividly. Didn’t we go into this port to further learning—who could forget our first time out teaching’?

Being a very hospitable crew, we welcomed the new freshman swallows aboard the ship with a gala welcome party.

Our usual week of endless parties around Christmas time came at an opportune moment. And then February was there before we knew it with our Junior Weekend—a sleigh ride, with a free walking and huge party, and a dinner dance. This was held at the port’s large hotel—Hotel Somerset in the Princess Ballroom. Two people were responsible for the magnificent time—Adina Goodbody and Martha Stickney. Dreamer’s Holiday, wasn’t it and didn’t the name fit perfectly? We can’t forget our queen of the pageant—Janice Ryan.

Before disembarking, our show was given aboard ship. Everyone came to the opening night and loved it. Our audience enjoyed our return of the corn girls and the added attraction of the “dainty Harvardian” chorus line.

Truly, we waved goodbyes to this port. We now have only one port left to visit before our voyage is over.

OUR SENIOR YEAR

Now fully commissioned senior officers, we have steered our ship gallantly to the dock of Commencement Harbor. Since we had taken command of the ship, we decided to give the new comers some jolly hoisting. Much thought went into this to have everyone become well acquainted with their new ships and their senior officers. A scavenger hunt, headed by Jeanie Eisen was spontaneous as was the clean-up idea, initiated by Betty Willey. We ended the week with a party on the ship’s basketball court.

On this cruise, a new captain found our ship. Captain Huff. A kind and wonderful leader, she steered us through our voyage with flying colors.

We enjoyed our All-Crew Weekend in November, which was a new and exciting idea. Mary Gilpin was responsible for its grand success. It began with a bayside for the first night—a party the next afternoon, and in the evening—a formal in the Somerset’s Louis XIV ballroom.

Wherever any publicity of our fabulous shows is posted, people come back to the ship and the year was no exception. The Freshmen added zest as the two classes pooled their talents in the ship’s first original production.

What we had been looking forward to for four years finally arrived—the Dinner Dance in the Stuller’s Bay State Room. It was all we had anticipated.

Through a long, exciting series of examinations, experiments and fond memories, we earned our ratings and degrees. Thanks to our Captains, we have ridden through gales and high seas without disaster—and as we disembark on Future’s Island, we can truly say we have learned to be better citizens in today’s world.

WILL AND TESTAMENT

E. the class of nineteen hundred and fifty-three of Lesley College, contained within the city of Cambridge, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, being the possessor of sound mind and memory, but uncertain as to their whereabouts, so make, publish and declare this to be our last will and testament, and we do in this document solemnly bequeath our most treasured possessions to those fortunate heirs mentioned herein.

I. Petty Alexander, leave my dynamic voice and supple hands to Laiy Fiske. I. Joan Angel, leave to Joan Catenfield the thrill of being pinned. I. Ruth Avniel, leave with a sigh of relief. I. Peggy Barton, leave to Emmie Kurian a room large enough for three roommates. I. Barbara Bon representing my natural blond hair to Sally Wilkins. I. Nancy Bennett, leave my baby face to movie fans who can afford only half-price. I. Norma Bennett, leave all the fun of being twins to all who wish to try it. I. Phyllis Block, leave the trials and tribulations of Hill to the future president. I. Martha Bond, leave my "lovely" summers on the Cape to Della MacAskill. I. Virginia Brant, leave my chair at the "Zete" house at Tufts to Joan Cole. I. Jane Burgess, leave my United States citizenship and take on a Canadian one. I. Dee Butterfield, leave two season football tickets on the fifty-yard line to anyone lucky enough to date a Harvard band man. I. Sue Callahan, leave my Freshman sister the ability to find true and lasting friends. I. Janet Carver, leave my size 7 dresses to Marjorie Stevens. I. Nancy Catania, leave a lonely life to any army wife. I. Joan Crawford, leave my brother to Sue Dallahan, as if she needs him. I. Bernie Chalidsky, leave the Lesley Gateway of Happiness and Success to Barbara Mayfield. I. Donna Chango, leave my loud voice to Shirley Zelinsky. I. Anne Clifford, leave the three inches of material I cut off every skirt to Marjorie McGann. I. Sylvia Cohen, leave to Midge Schneider enough money to buy telephones for every dormitory room. I. Nancy Coleman, leave with the hope that there will be at least one future freshman who will help Dr. Crockett carry on the Maine spirit. I. Barbara Constable, leave 56 lbs. lighter than I came. I. Barbara Craig, leave to Cynthia Reddy the telephone number of my husband. I. Betty Cummings, leave all the heartaches of making married plans all by myself. I. Abby Cushing, leave to Marilyn Mulloy my aim at Lesley knowing she will enjoy it. I. June Cutter, leave my teeth to the dentist's office. I. Marilyn Drecoll, leave to everyone at the bar an "I'm going to the lounge." I. Zoe Eberhardt, leave the senior house only to go into another one with Woody. I. Joan Eizen, leave my 52 Plymouth to Nancy Butter so that she may arrive at class as promptly as I did. I. Mary Ensick, leave my passion for purple to anyone sensitive enough to appreciate it. I. Peggi Fash, leave to Joan Crencky my ability to plan and carry through any task. I. Alice Gallagher, leave all the subways clocks between Park Street and Harvard Street to Pat Fiala. She too seems to be living by the clock. I. Mary Gibbons, leave my 3 History books in hopes that some one can understand them besides the instructor. I. Harriet Gleason, leave all the stockings I ran while student teaching to Miss O'Connor to be dialogue among the other veterans. I. Dee Goldmann, leave to drive a Crosley to any one as daring as I. I. Barbara Goldsmith, leave all my happy hours spent in dungeness and "Tea" shirts to Lana Bailey. I. Arlene Goodwin, leave with the thought, "Sid, you get Mary Leona Levin Gottfried, leave a pen, stationery, and many stamps to girls who find themselves dedicated to writing to Mr. X every night. I. Ellen Groul, leave my infectious giggle to Jan Carrier. I. Helen Hackett, leave to Norma Silverstein my single status, as I take on a new one. I. Ann Hickey, leave the Green Bus Local to Janet Hansen and Effie Pinkelby and anyone else who has heard of it. I. Thelma Hienes, leave the chair in Dean Thurtler's office warm for the next S.C.A. president. I. Alma Hodgdon, leave to Mrs. Mac Cormick the Arlington Height's trolley. I. Barbara Hoyt, leave my calm, serene ways to Carol Duris. I. Cathy IMDT, leave the editorship of the Lancer to any junior with three heads. I. Esther Jenkins, leave my stake to the next incoming senior President to be used during freshman orientation. I. Beverly JObb, leave all the rain, not White Rain, to Lois Thorell for longer and curter hair. I. Ruth Joyce, leave for a bigger and brighter future. I. Marie Keene, leave the seventh of June. I. Jeanne Kinkebell, leave my skis, skates, water ski's and speed boat to Charles Atlas. I. Janis Knoll, leave my senior Glen Club robe to Bobbie Blair. I. Mary Lady, leave my suit to Claire Donovan to make her traveling more pleasant. I. Barbara Livingston, leave with pleasure, all my books to my sister Gae. I. Mildred Lyons, leave Dr. Crockett's eight classes. I. Davis MacGregor, leave my artistic attempts in Miss Shapler's wastebasket. I. Frances MacLennan, leave the fun of the sophomore show to the next group of singing wailers. I. Pat Magner, leave my seat in front of the TV, set to Priscilla Johnson. I. Barbara Molina, leave the Harvard Economic Department to all the freshmen hoping they will be as fortunate as I. Barbara Martin, leave to Joan McNiff and Cinny. I. Shun my ability to stay away from trouble. I. Elin McClaren, leave to Janet Murphy one more year at Lesley that might not have been. I. Morton McComb, leave my glasses for all those driving on the Maine Turnpike the same time as Jack and I. I. Mary McKay, leave history. I. Mary McSweeney, leave to Mary Cormican my many good times with our friends on the hill. I. Ann Cutting Merrick, leave to Arlissa. I. Jon Moo Young, leave to Jan Carr the Oxford Comroe Dictionary to take my place. I. Nancy Morrison, leave my pioneering spirit to Judy Rushick. I. Janice Murray, leave my clarinet to the orchestra. I. Paula Nollers, leave to Mary McCarthy all the transfers necessary to make the trip from Newton to Cambridge. I. Betty Joan Murray, leave to Sheila Rudolph the "old Fall River line." I. Joanna Norton, leave to Dorothy Gremo my flair for formal. I. Margaret O'Hara, leave to some lucky Junior the pleasure of practice teaching under my mother. I. Lorraine Palmu, leave my dates at M.I.T. to Joanie Rosenberg. I. Audrey Palmer, leave to Muriel Egan the trials and tribulations of being a freshman. I. Jane Partlow, leave the car to my sister, Nancy, in order that it won't forget its way to Lesley. I. Marilyn Pearce, leave a box of nickels next to the candy machine for all girls who get as hungry as I do. I. Penny Pecking, leave to Ginny Turner my "Jade de vie" with the hope that she'll live through it. I. Jane Perry, leave to Gale Rutner, with pleasure, my blash. I. Joan Peters, leave a pair of flats to any one who hates them as much as I do. I. Annette Peterson, leave to anyone as elating, spacious eating quarters with a modicum of quiet, the dining corner in the college gym. I. Claire Prinsen, leave my allergy of hay to the horses. I. Carol Puck, leave to anyone interested my ability to get naturally blond hair from God's powerful sunshine. I. Ann Reagan, leave my ability to ask questions to Dr. LQ. I. Ruth Richard, leave to Lesley College my appreciation. I. Elaine Ring, leave to Judy Goldman the happiness that I found in my senior year. I. Ruth Rosenbraum, leave my quiet monaur to Paula Zelatis. I. Jan Ryan, leave my philosophical thought of the year. He who puts off, puts on... I. Mary Saunders, leave my high-powered energy to anyone who can keep up with me. I. Ellen Sera, leave all the notes I didn't get to play to the future Glenn Davis. I. Joyce Seyer, leave my daily cheer, early, morning arising to Martha Shultz. I. Betty Solod, leave my many uncles meals to any girl who is not lucky enough to have her face in Brooklyn. I. Martha Stickleman, leave my standing room on the M.I.T. to anyone who can brave it. I. Frances Sullivan, leave to Barbara Brune my good times at Lesley, but I take the memories. I. Maryanne Tichener, leave the Thursday Tramp to Julie Clayton my footsteps. I. Betty Willey, leave to both my little sisters, Janis and Ann Sullivan, all the fun and happy memories I compiled on the hill at Lesley. We, the seniors, leave the freshmen brand new green baubles. We, the seniors, leave the sophomore the anticipation of student teaching. We, the seniors, leave the juniors the responsibilities and satisfaction of being a senior. The foregoing having been designated as the Final Will and Testament of the illustrious Class of '51 signed, sealed, witnessed, and otherwise made legal on this Friday, the fifth day of the sixth month in the year of our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Fifty-two, we hereby set our signature to this document.

SOPHOMORES

It was a dream, just perfect in every way, our sophomore year at Lesley College. September 17, the day we all greeted each other with happy hearts, we will always remember as the beginning of this dream.

Two of the biggest events in our dream took place on October 16 and February 5 and 6. The first was our party for the freshmen and transfers under the able chairmanship of Alice Mary Roach. What could have been more fun than meeting all the new Lesley students? The "Roaring Twenties" and our Mack McQuade we will never forget. Putting on our show with Mack as the director was the most fun we ever had. From beginning to end the show was a huge success.

Our thanks for such a happy and full year go to AlcinaMcCoy, our class president, Miss Lindsey, our understanding class advisor, and the whole sophomore class for their sincere efforts in leading us along a road that made our dreams come true.

FRESHMEN

The enthusiastic members of the class of "56" have proven themselves worthy of attending Lesley College. Entering the college in September, the class spent the first days becoming oriented. "Help Week" progressed with the distribution of the freshmen bounties. At this time the "Sophisticated" Seniors were encouraged to develop little duties for the "fresh" to fulfill, the climax being a party given by the Seniors. The Juniors and Sophomores also invited the freshmen class to parties, which were enjoyed by all.

The campaign of class officers was the next event the freshmen class took part in. After the election a class motto was derived: "Ever onward, never backward." The successful freshmen-senior show was another activity enjoyed by all.

The class of "56" has had a happy and prosperous year. Now that we are more familiar with the opportunities and advantages at Lesley College, the next three years will be even more successful.
STUDENT CHRISTIAN MOVEMENT

A fellowship tea started the academic year for the Student Christian Movement, a spiritual and social organization for Lesley girls. A retreat at Camp Joy in Winchester in October enabled the girls to join together in a worship service led by Betty Carlin and Norma Burns, and a lively discussion directed by Miss Betty Johns, secretary of the New England Student Christian Movement.

Janice Currie attended the New England Conference held in Baltimore, Maryland during the Christmas vacation.

Winter in New England was sponsored by the Newman Club and was a memorable evening with Virginia Dorr. Virginia Adams and Diana Eldridge were co-workers of the Student Christian Movement.

Dr. Charles L. Atkins' church in Boston, Massachusetts was the scene of a campus trip.

Our able advisor, Miss Edna L. Doolittle, was most helpful in the club. Religion is a need of each girl, and through the medium of our organization we have found spiritual and social contacts.

NEWMAN CLUB

The aim of the Newman Club is to foster the spiritual, educational, and social life of the Catholic girls at the college. We were under the capable guidance of our Chaplain, Father John Kennedy and our faculty advisor, Dr. Ruth Mackey.

This year, due to the efforts of Abby Cushing, a Newman book shelf has been added to the library. This has been received with much enthusiasm and ever increasing interest. The number of books is rapidly growing.

Lectures and discussions highlighted our general meetings. A joint Hanukkah dance with the Student Christian Movement was held at the College; a Christmas party at the Catholic Home for Defective children, and a day of Recollection at Marcellin Academy. In May, to conclude the year, we had our annual Communion Breakfast.

This year we have extended our activities to include more active participation in charitable projects in line with our spiritual objectives.
Our club of volunteer workers offers its services to the surrounding communities and the world at large. The members worked in children's wards of hospitals, and in settlement houses, while others headed Girl Scout troops.

During the year we sponsored the Perkin's Institute for the Blind to act as dancing partners, to go on a scavenger hunt, or just to talk to the students.

At Christmas time Santa Claus' workshop buzzed with girls dressing dolls and repairing toys for needy children.

Throughout the year we sent packages of clothing to our adopted town, Dillkeis, Germany. The entire college helped make it possible to send CARE packages there.

All those who could responded to our two Blood Drives, enabling the college to break its last year's record number of donors.

We sponsored a "Review Night" at the University Theater in Harvard Square; a successful attempt to raise funds which we used to take over thirty settlement house children on an all-day picnic to Pine Banks Park.

Thus ended a profitable year of Lesley's growing Compass Club.
The Dramatic Club of Lesley is one of the most active and popular clubs in the college. The club sponsors a banquet, various theater parties, and two plays each year, which provide ample opportunity for active participation in prop work, scenery, promotion, acting or organization work. No talent is neglected in the production of a play such as the club’s first this season, “Nine Girls,” which starred Esther Jackson and Suzanne Callahan.

The Dramatic Club has also pioneered and assisted in the Lesley College Children’s Theater. Patricia Alexander, our very efficient President, Dr. White, our able advisor, and Miss Joan Nelson, talented director from the Boston Conservatory, stood out among the long list of members who have so willingly and capably joined forces to make this thespian year as successful as it has been.

Delta Psi Omega is a national honorary dramatic fraternity for both men and women who participate in college dramatics. The Lesley College Dramatic Club is fortunate to have a strong member cast in the fraternity. Members include the following:

Mrs. MacCormack
Dr. Atkins
Esther Jackson
Frances Sullivan
Jean Cownoka
Deana Goldman
Sylvia Cohen
Patricia Alexander
Janet Carr
Lucille Lewis
Jeanne Raynard

Honorary members:
Dr. White
Drew Thurber

The Glee Club has had a very busy season. Three major programs have been presented each representing a particular kind of choral work. In December a formal concert of choruses and carols for treble voices was given for the college and friends of the college. Livingston Stebbings Library, decorated with greens and lighted by candles was the scene of this festive occasion. At this time, the newly formed Madrigal group appeared for the first time in a group of 4 capella carols.

In April, Worcester Tech Glee Club joined forces with Lesley College in a joint concert at the Hotel Commander. Our girls were hostesses at a supper served the visitors. After the concert dancing was enjoyed by all those taking part.

In addition to these activities the Glee Club served the college by providing music for fall and spring convocations and Commencement.

LESLEY MADRIGAL SINGERS

The Madrigal Group is ready to sing over Station WVOM, on Morgan Memorial's Early Morning Service Program.

The Lesley Madrigal Singers is a new musical organization this year. It was organized as a result of interest on the part of several girls in gaining experience in small ensemble work.

This group has already made three appearances; as guests on the Glee Club Christmas program, at December convocation, and on a Radio Program from station WVOM.

Plans for future concerts on and off campus are now underway.

The Penguin Club is the largest club at Lesley. It was organized primarily to unite the commuters with an everlasting bond of good spirit and fellowship.

Always active, this year the club added to its list of activities a jam session, complete with band, cokes, popcorn and crowd as well as the buffet suppers which enabled many commuters to attend the Lesley Thursday Evening lectures which they might otherwise have missed.

The Candy Cane Ball, the club's annual informal dance, heralded the coming of the holiday season and Cathy Imler was chosen Miss Penguin. Shortly after this event a combined faculty-Penguin Christmas party was held. Lesley Open House wouldn't be the same without the Penguin Club Luncheon and here once again, we blush with pride. A thoroughly wonderful and memorable year was ended with the banquet and installation of new officers.

The club wishes to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Seaboyer for her guidance and help throughout the year.
Year East, Far East, Europe, Latin America, vast continents, microscopic islands—all were brought into focus in this interesting forum. The International Relations Club launched its program of activity with a visit from Hans and Ellie Spiegel, Directors of the International Student's Centre, and accompanying foreign students. Willingness of the girls to follow up their visit and promote better international relations through contact with the many foreign students, resulted in the Club’s sponsoring teas at the International Centre and at the Y.W.C.A. We also had guest speakers from various sections of the world, promoted films of contemporary historical significance and had an informal gathering of girls in native costume.

Appreciation of one’s environment was the dynamics behind the highly successful forum on the Presidential Election with Harvard Law School; the trip through the “Christian Science Monitor” buildings and our tour of the United Nations.

Club members have cooperated to work in projects, joined together in merriment—and have been ever mindful of the goal: World Peace. Their gift of a United Nations flag to the College was a token of this sentiment.

Our club owes its progress to our faculty advisors—Mrs. Bond, Miss Thurber, and Mr. Morris—to whom we express our appreciation.

The LANTERN, the newspaper which keeps the students in touch with the college activities and brings variation into the daily schedule, is a fortnightly paper, published for the students by the students. Much credit however, goes to Dr. Atkins, our faculty advisor, who patiently guided the staff.

A better paper, however, required more funds. These funds were secured through good advertising, by a noon-time food sale held each day for three weeks, and also by a successful dance. This extra money made it possible for us to have more pictures in the LANTERN, and often an extra page, both of which are added features.

But finally, it was the willingness to work, cooperation, determination, and ambition on the part of the staff which helped to make the LANTERN a college newspaper one of which to be proud.

ALL-COLLEGE WEEKEND
Make your plans now to attend the first All-College Weekend to be held at Lesley. November 7, 8 and 9 are the big dates when the alumni will come back to join in our activities.

On Friday night, November 7th, at 7:30, is the hayride, or if you would rather, you may stay at school for movies and entertainment. Later that night, there will be dancing, music played by Brad Kent and his orchestra.

Saturday, November 8th, you and your date will be seen under the spotlights in the beautiful Louis XIV Ballroom at the Hotel Somerset. Here the first all-college formal will take place with the band of Brad Kent playing smooth music.

Guests are welcomed, so do ask your friends, $5.00 — so busy and buy yours soon. See you there.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

IT'S quite a trip to Lesley for some, but Igne Jorgensen tops most of us. She left Jutland, Denmark, scheduled to arrive in New York on September 1st, destination, Lesley.

Here is how it all happened. In June, 1949, Igne completed her course at the local gymnaces (high school equivalent) and made plans to go to England for several months so that she might master the English language. Just before leaving Denmark, the opportunity arose to travel with friends to the United States. She came here on a visitor's visa which allowed a two year stay. Most of the first year was spent traveling in the United States from coast to coast, but the second year found her settled in the vicinity of Harvard Square. She became acquainted with Lesley. As her visa expired she returned to “the land of the midnight sun" but ten months later she was aboard the Queen Elizabeth, bound for Cambridge.

Igne plans to teach nursing school in her native land. Lesley takes this opportunity to extend a hearty welcome to our country's guest and hopes her stay will be happy and profitable.
The Student Government Association under the capable leadership of Thelma Hixson has promoted the general welfare and interests of all the students at Lesley. The enthusiastic student-elected members have produced a constantly growing program.

The government began its work early in the Fall by serving as a welcome committee for the incoming Freshmen.

Abby Cushing and Norma Burns served as co-chairmen of the annual Acquaintance Dance on October 4th at the Hotel Commander.

The All-College Christmas Party and collection of gifts for the Morgan Memorial Baskets added to the joyful holiday season.

Open House, held during the month of April, was visited by friends and prospective students of the College. Della MacAskill was chairman of this successful event.

Large selections of Lesley articles were sold daily to the student body in the Student Government Association store.

Bi-monthly assemblies were held which created a stronger bond between the student body.

We extend our appreciation to Dr. Mark Crockett, our advisor and friend, who has constantly given unlimited time and talent to the government.

The purpose of the Student Government Association Court is to try all violations of college rules which fall under the jurisdiction of the student government.

The court meets every Monday afternoon after the Association meeting. At this time the judge and jury conduct a court session for any girls having broken regulations of the college.

Once the defendant comes into court, she states her case and answers questions directed to her from the jury. After the defendant leaves the room the jury decides her guilt or innocence as the case may be, and she returns to hear the verdict.

Court tabulations are recorded by the court clerk after each case has been tried.

Hammond Hall—situated here on single road, is located at 36 Hammond Street, just two minutes walk away from the college. Our homemaker, Mrs. Bead, can be quoted today for saying “All is well on the Republican front,” and “in Maine, peace has won the nation.” Her family news, trooped in number, sound off as follows.

Betty Wilber—“Does someone have a spare tire for Paddy?”

Marie Stevens—Our Egyptian goddess who lives it out.

Anne Thompson—Wednesday night call from Connecticut. Thursday letter from George.

Ruth Richards—“Up at seven, in bed at eleven” (Past would like to remain unchanged).

Norma Bennett—Just need more for said.

Grace Johnson—A pure victim of a possible housetrap.

Damsie Chickering—Our new Harvard Law Student? Classes every Saturday at eleven.

“Beau.” Beaumont—Our Mystery Member. Debbie is the light of her eye.

Joan Stevens—Saturday and Sunday evening all is quiet or else.

Mary Rawlings—She pays the phone call.

June Sheehan—Line home to the kids for the shower at Damster House.

OXFORD HALL

Vice-President: Joan Peters
Secretary: Margaret Button
Treasurer: Marlin Bronson

September 9th was the day and who wouldn’t have known it? Clothes, cans, hamps, waste paper baskets and truncheons we each held dear were all being brought into our old Freshman Home—Oxford Hall. Because of our great expense, this was the only elementary that could hold us all.

That night, we had a senior class party—thus the dormitory girls and community. Not much damage was done, but everyone at least was caught up on the very latest news.

When every girl was accounted for the next night, we held our house election. At the same time, we shocked Mother Colwell with a surprise halloween party.

Many parties followed throughout the year—Halloweens, Election Day, Christmas, Open House, a birthday party for each girl, and of course halloween parties! This is our last year at Lesley, the end of our college career, where we have gained scientifically as well as socially.

Our memories of Lesley and especially of our chemistry experiments will always be remembered.

Parker Hall, a festive household of student teachers, is a haven of a Halloween party at Edmonton; a Christmas party, where we all greeted each other and sang carols; and a Valentine party with the society of the opposite sex. We saw the Jolly Jumblers of "St. Doris." A merry heart goes all the day. Barbara Blikon—"So sweet the balm of handicrafts." Nancy Dickey—"Happiness consists in the multiplicity of agreeable consciousness." Nancy Dickey—"Consistently fourth quarter of our life and its important concerns." Betty Dow—"Where there is life there is hope." Dellina Florist—"Great things are made by little things." Judy Goldstein—"I myself stay with action." Ginny Haines—"Too grateful for the kindness of simple tastes and sentimental contrast." Mary Long—"Smooth sheek with ease and home keeping habits." Dellina MacAdie—"The little sweet shelf wall beater." Jackie McCafferty—"A heart of boundless is good cheer." Mary Lou Metzler—"What is earnest meets so rare." Ruth Anne Murphy—"A founder friend is the medicine of life." Carol Parson—"It is a comedy fashion to be glad." Peggy Tarras—"A witty woman is a treasure." Late Thursday—"Good humor may be said to be one of the very best articles of every one can write in society." Joan Williams—"Rejoice with them that do rejoice and weep with them that weep." Janet Williams—"Comrades in the flavor of justice." Mrs. Findlay—"The glory of the house is hospitality."}

On the lower campus of Lyle College, we find Concordia Hall, the home of twenty-five sophomores. Upon entering the dormitory we are greeted by the friendly housemother, Mrs. Barnes, that patient dancemother and earth of genius, who is a second mother to all her girls. There we have a chance to meet these active sophomores who are:

Jackie Barciniak—Looks forward to her career with joy.
Mary Conners—Studying music with a gift of gab.
Ginny Dushtel—A great spark to our Club Club.
Janie Blain—A very creative girl.
Edele Borman—Great admirer of Maria Lauro.
Alma McGrew—Patient quaker and ambitious class president.
Bonnie Raymond—Second Katharine Cornell.
Joan Rhee—Quiet but full of pep.
Joan Radueck—Mother's best customer.
Pat Field—Another phone call.
Nancy Beaudoin—Footprint trips to Pavilion.
Marty Schute—Life of any party.
Lise Carxole—Bee Sting knitting needles.
Dona Eldridge—Her artistic touch.
Monroe Duffy—What a surprise laugh.
Una Finches—Always there with a helping hand.
Tony Shovestall—Accomplished on the third floor.
Su Cooper—Electra—Diana—And more duties.
Ludelle Armstrong—A whirl at the cafeteria.
Joan Gartside—Engaged.
Jexie Smits—Always found at the piano.
Norma Barnes—A talented clarinetist.
Gary McMillan—Playful with glory of pep.
Good Miller—A great singer (to be 1971).
Rudie Adams—Active participant in all activities.

Everett Hall has a society term.
With songs and dances for all of you!
Mrs. Shickel is a jolly one.
And really helps to all our fun.
Now let us show you why we have.
Since we number only fifteen!

Jo: A terrific President plus a great sense of humor—that’s all.

Bela: A Treasurer, not in love with money but with “Blue Moon” and the Blue Hills of Kentucky.

Sue: A little girl with a lot to say.

Daisy: Loves the telephone and the telephone loves her.
Mavis: Where’s our SGA representative? “Gone for a chatte!”

Gay: Her letters to me from Nate Buman.
Sasha: Only one color strong with her and that’s “Brown”.
Nancy: She met someone but look again.

Mona: Just said she’s “impressed” of old names.

S: The eyes of Texas are upon our Vice-President.
Ginny: A small town girl in the big, big city—that’s our Secretary.

Pete: Loves to sing, loves to dance, especially with Harvard men.

Joey: What would she do without Harvard?

Everett Hall’s a jolly crew,
With songs and dances for all of you!
Mrs. Shickel is a jolly one.
And really helps to all our fun.
Now let us show you why we have.

September 14, 1932. Fifteen green, fresh-faced entered Jenckes Hall. Orientation was thrilling—but home mother, Mrs. Sadowsky, made us feel at home from the start, and upper dorms added spice to our new environment.

After election of dorm officers we started making plans; thus, the year’s activities for Jenckes Hall were underway. I’m sure, though, most of us will be wondering what will happen if Jean got new mattress?

Paula could decide among the stars?
Joan didn’t love Pi Beta?
Card run out of dates for girl student?
Nancy Ill, got new shoes for her hair?
Kay couldn’t Harvard?
Lena ran out of new impressions?
Arce bought a map of the world?
Ellie’s mother stopped baking homemade cakes?
Wedge lost her gold and her tears?
Sylvia’s Zealot fell out of the window?
Irene grew an inch?
Advance didn’t love a telephone?
Jason didn’t live to the stage show in the morning?
Nancy B’s room was lit by a strong wind?

OUR THANKS

We, the 1953 staff of the Lesleyan, wish to express our sincere appreciation to the faculty, student body, parents, and friends whose assistance and work made this book possible.

To Miss DeLuca we express our sincere gratitude for all the time and work she has given us as our advisor.

We are very grateful to our publisher, Mr. Wrightson, and our Harvard Studio photographers for their willingness to advise and for their constant cooperation.

The 1953 Lesleyan Staff

As editor-in-chief of the 1953 Lesleyan, I wish to express my personal thanks to the staff and to Miss DeLuca. It is only with complete cooperation that this yearbook has been published. I wish to express my sincere appreciation for all the time and work each person has given to make this yearbook a representative of our class spirit.
