LESLEY COLLEGE
1992

Lesley
College

*The goal of a Lesley College education is to empower students with the knowledge, skills, and practical experience they need to succeed as catalysts and leaders in their professions, their own lives, and the world in which they live.
(Lesley College Mission Statement)*

Lesley students' development is greatly enhanced by a combination of academic and co-curricular pursuits. The College encourages each student to take full advantage of her time at Lesley.

This Fall, first-year and transfer students were welcomed to Lesley College in a five-day orientation program organized by the Office of Student Affairs. A diverse program of activities was designed to introduce the new students to the Lesley College community.

Moving In Day.
New students and their families are welcomed to Lesley College.

"New Games!"
New students spend a day with upperclass Lesley students, faculty, and staff at Hale Reservation.

The Orientation staff helps the new students build a sense of community among themselves.

Even the elements of nature could not dampen the spirit and excitement of the Undergraduate School Orientation opening day program.

A new student smiles as she carries her laundry basket full of "clean" clothes to her residence hall.

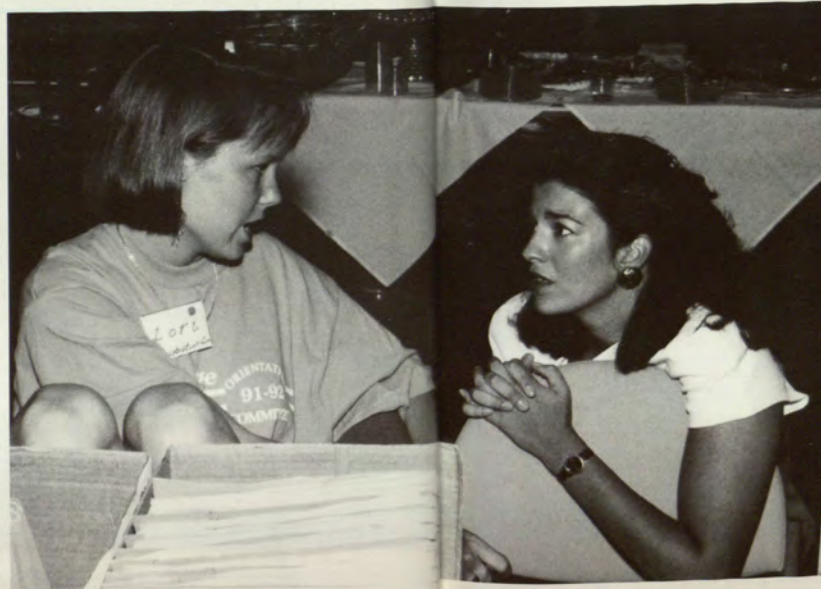

A new student and her parents are caught by the yearbook photographer as they unpack her worldly goods.

Anne-Marie Kerrigan, Assistant Director of Undergraduate School Admissions, assists a new student as she checks in.

Senior, Angela Orsini, spends time answering a new student's questions.

The Residence Life staff checks new students into the residence halls.

Liana Dicepolo, Assistant Director of Undergraduate School Admissions, and Lori Aranson, '94, Orientation Committee member, take a moment to catch up on the day's events.

Family and Friends Weekend

On October 25-27, family and friends of the Undergraduate School students were invited to a special weekend sponsored by the Junior Class. The weekend began with a Friday night mock casino offered by the Junior Class, and ended with a Sunday brunch.

Costume Dinner Party, October 31st ...

... in the Lesley Commons

A seemingly odd couple greet each other at the Costume Dinner Party.

"Replant. Recycle. Repair. The World." This student's costume sends a message to all about helping to make the world a better place.

This lucky student was caught by a pie passing by.

A bottle of Heinz Tomato Ketchup makes its way to the Costume Dinner Party.

Senior Investiture

The traditional Undergraduate School Senior Investiture ceremony was held on Friday evening October 4th at the First Church in Cambridge. This was an important milestone for seniors and provided an opportunity for family, friends, and members of the Lesley community to gather in their honor.

As the weeks have gone by since this semester began and this day came closer and closer, I realized what a difficult task I had let myself in for by accepting this honor. Last May, I sought out last year's Senior Investiture speaker, Karen Lavey, and asked her advice on what I should say. She calmly told me, "just say what's in your heart." At the time, I must admit, that sounded like a wonderful piece of wisdom, but now that the moment of truth has arrived, my heart has other ideas. To describe the emotions I feel now in words, about this, our final year, would probably come out all jumbled.

I've been thinking a lot about the year ahead of us. We have a lot to accomplish: field placements, resumes, job interviews to name a few. We have to fit so much into such a short time, and I wonder if we'll have time to stop and smell the roses. By this I mean that some of us, myself especially, will be saying farewell in a very definite way next May, and I don't want to leave here thinking that there was more I could have done.

My friends here usually ask me before vacation time "not to forget us," and as one so delicately put it last year, "don't lose yourself on that island of yours and forget me." I tell you today in all honesty that I owe too much to you all to ever forget you. You have all made my life in this school and country so warm and welcoming, and I've often wondered if there was any way I could give back to you even a quarter of what you've given to me. I think today is my chance, so this is for you all.

One of my favorite novels by Richard Bach tells of an ambitious seagull who believed there was more to life than the routine of flying from the shore to the sea for food and then back again. He decided to perfect his talents by reaching into himself, and experimenting with what the others in his community termed as impossible. This young gull was eventually exiled from his flock. He flies alone for a long time until he eventually encounters other seagulls who live by the same philosophies as he does. Through them, he gains an understanding of the reason behind his burning ambitions, and most importantly of all, he uses his new-found wisdom to teach the others around him that it's okay to be different.

Through this story, I want you all to realize that you each have that same drive within you. Of that there can be no doubt, for to have chosen the professions you have, there exists in you a zeal to bring out the best in others by giving the best of yourselves. You all have that intangible gift for which no words can be found - the gift not only of giving of yourselves, but giving of yourselves for the betterment of others. This is a very precious and wonderful gift you possess, and in my own way, this is what I wish to give you today to keep with you for your lives ahead. I give you your beautiful selves - whole, intact and budding, waiting anxiously for life's touch so that you may bloom to your full potential. The treasures you hold within you are great - don't be ashamed of them. Let others have the honor and benefit of experiencing your uniqueness - for I firmly believe that there are no others like you. When the going gets tough during the course of this year or in future years, remember and believe in what I have just told you for it is all true.

I leave you with this quote from Richard Bach, "Don't believe what your eyes are telling you. All they show is limitation. Look with your understanding, find out what you already know, and you'll see the way to fly."

God bless you all. Thank you.

Anne-Marie Abdulla, '92

"That's What Friends Are For!" Lana, Angela, Colleen, and Felicia celebrate their accomplishments at Lesley.

"I get by with a little help from my friends."

Kristen and Lisa share a brief moment together before heading off to the Senior Investiture Ceremony.

"There's A Winner In You"

*It's only me, I came to see you, and I know what you've been through.
I will be your friend, lean on me for now.
I've got to pull you back up somehow.*

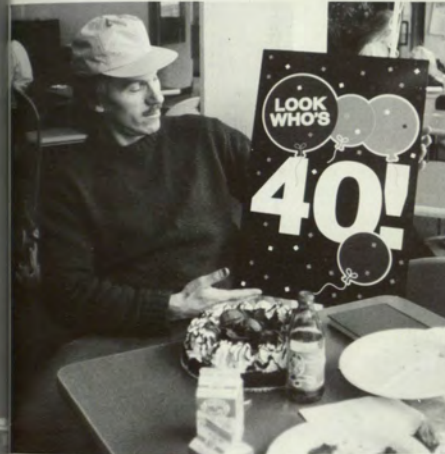

*And I'll have no more of this moping around.
I'm tired of you pulling yourself down.
Cause in spite of all that you've been through,
I still believe there's a winner in you.*

*Sometimes I can see it on the tip of your mind,
but can't focus at all times,
then the wind turns it to another,
before you discover that there's a winner,
there's a hero, there's a lover too,
and somewhere there's a winner in you.*

A Message from the Bradford Exchange Students

Photographer: Robert Davis

On January 13, 1992, at 5:35 p.m., British Airways Flight #215 arrived at Logan Airport in Boston. Among the passengers aboard the flight were 14 Bradford College exchange students and their charismatic leader. They were greeted by people from Lesley College and transported to their home away from home, Reed Hall. For the next seven weeks they became Lesley College students.

The seven men and seven women from Bradford, England, worked and played hard during their internship exchange experience. While at Lesley, their internships included schools for the teacher trainers and various Boston-area private and public organizational settings. During the seven-week experience, they had one vacation week and most of the students used the time to see the sites of Boston and the United States. Their destinations included Florida, New Hampshire, New Orleans, and Canada. According to reliable sources, a great time was had by all.

In addition to these excursions, many of the students drew on their own initiative and sense of adventure to organize various weekend trips. Their travels took them to Washington, D.C., New York, and Rhode Island.

All this may have seemed quite a lot, but not for the Bradford students. All in all they had a fantastic time at Lesley College and in the United States.

The Bradford students would like to thank everyone involved in the exchange program, everyone at Lesley, and all of their friends at Reed Hall for making them feel so welcome. Finally, they would like to thank their inspirations, Brian Holdsworth and Mary Norberg, for making it all possible. Long live the Exchange Program.

Teacher's Prayer

*I want to teach my students how to live this life on earth
To face its struggles and its strife and how to improve their worth.*

*Not just the lesson in a book
on how the river flows
But how they choose the proper path
wherever they may go.*

*To understand eternal truth and know the right from wrong
And gather all the beauty of a flower and a song.*

*For if I help the world to grow
in wisdom and in grace
Then I shall feel that I have won and I have filled my place.*

*And so I ask your guidance, God, that I may do my part
For character and confidence and happiness of heart.*

We've shared
 Special moments together: hours of enjoyment, filled with love, because they were spent with you. And

I am by your side
 Give you strength when you're lost inside
 You can always count on me
 I will never hide, you see
 ...I am by your side
 Suddenly I realize
 I can always run to you
 You will be there, it is true...

-- Corey Hart

...Take a friend in need
 Or a friend that you need
 Who can help you through the troubled times...
 So, reach on out
 And take a hold of my hand
 Let me know that you're ready to go
 There ain't no dues
 And you can leave
 Your worries behind.
 And have a little peace,
 Peace of mind.

Shania Mercedes Vovaris

Dear Shania,
It seems so long ago now when you were very small. You placed your hand in my hand as we walked down that first school hall. There was a woman writing with a smile on her face. This was her magic kingdom. This was her special place. It was in her care I left you; and it was in her care you grew; and it won't be very long now until you will have that special magic that only teachers do. Congratulations.

Love,
Mom and Dad

I would like to thank my family and friends for making my years here fun and worthwhile.

Love,
Suzanne/Suzanne-Bonamy/T2/M.C./Suzie?

My Mom, the Fitzhelt Family, and Sherry Lovestite
I would like to thank all of you for your continual support and encouragement throughout my college years.

Susan

Mom and Dad

Thanks for all of your support Mom and Dad! I could not have done it without you both! Your love and guidance will not be forgotten.
Katie

Lyn Marie Taylor

Thank you for all the joy and happiness you have given us. We love you and are so proud of you.

Mom and Dad

You are very special to me. My best wishes to you for lots of happiness and success always.

Grandma Farris

Your entrance into our lives was the beginning of many happy occasions. Your graduation is another milestone we are so proud to be a part of.

Grandma and Grandpa

Jennifer Beatty

She is sharp and bright like a shiny new penny, and that is why we are so proud of our Leahy '92 graduate Jeni.

Uncle Jackie, Auntie Mary, and Marshall

Jennifer,

Wishing you special moments, warm memories, and all the happiness you deserve.

Love,
Mimi

Jeni,

You make those of us who know you very proud of you. Keep it going.

Bob Granton

Jennifer,

Quite an accomplishment. Proud and happy for you. Good luck and best wishes for a bright future.

Etken and Bob Grant

Dear Jeni,

You are a young woman any Mom and Dad would be proud of. Keep up the good fight. It is all worth it!

Hi Everyone!

This is our final letter to you as the co-editors for the 1992 Lesley College Yearbook. This book reflects the collaborative efforts of many people. We would like to express our appreciation and thanks to Jennifer Kilson-Page (Advisor) and Carolyn Elliott who supported us throughout this journey and helped make the production of the yearbook run smoothly. We are also very grateful to Jennifer Beatty, Colleen Kelleher, Kathleen Murphy, Adrienne Newman, Mary Norberg, Lana Paige, Lisa Pedulla, David Roth (Yearbook Publisher), Patty Ryan, Stephanie Silverman, Alyse Weiner, Susan Williams (Communications Office), and everyone else who supported our endeavors throughout this project. You have all helped to make the 1992 yearbook such a success. Thank You!

*All the Best to Everyone!

Yearbook Poem 1992

With my experience, I found truth, and received, thereby, a meansa means to look within myself and on myself to lean.

A cultivation of my confidence,
a nurturing of my soul;
enveloped in a warm circle of friends,
I find strength with which to grow.

It is here that I have discovered that, in going forward, we mustn't see the end;
for our growth remains incessant
and to our education, this growth lends.

As we move on, let us keep in mind
those memories which warm our hearts-the support, the comfort, and encouragement which allow us the power to confidently part.

What we've gained here is insurmountable,
and through trying times may we recall ...
That the strength we can find within ourselves is the greatest strength of all.

- Heather Olsen '92
